As President of the Hong Kong Computer Society (HKCS), I am pleased to report that we have made very good progress in the past year in all the key areas of focus, especially in creating values for our members and in making contributions to our industry and the community at large.

Remarkable achievements of our Special Interest Groups (SIGs) and Clubs

On the basis of its active membership, HKCS has established a number of groups and clubs with shared purposes and interests. One such example is our SIGs (Special Interest Groups), whose achievements this year have made us proud of our leading position in the ICT industry.

Earlier this year, our SIGs collectively hosted five highly successful programs during the International IT Fest 2016 hosted by the Hong Kong SAR Government, making HKCS the professional body with the most contribution to that major industry event.

The FinTech SIG, for example, has built good momentum since its establishment in mid 2015, by formalising a Memorandum of Understanding (MOU) with the Hong Kong Institute of Bankers (HKIB) late last year. This partnership had led to HKIB hosting a new category of Hong Kong ICT Awards – Best Fintech Award, which was supported by HKCS, and our collaboration will surely continue to push developments of both talents and ideas in the banking and finance sectors.

Our clubs have also been very successful in bringing like-minded members together for common purposes. HKCS' FACE Club, our first women-only club established in 2015, aims to recognise the contribution of females in ICT industry, for instance through organising the Outstanding ICT Women Awards (OICTWA) 2015, which attracted a lot of media attention. Our FACE Club members made their first public appearance in May 2016 at Cloud Expo Asia, attending a panel session on career prospects for women in technology. Moving forward, FACE Club will continue to increase the power and reach of the female voice in the industry, and attract more females to join the ICT profession.

Our Youth Club was once again the co-organiser of the Inter-school Mobile Application Design Contest (IMADC) 2015. Moreover, the Club invited university and tertiary students to compete in a Hackathon in October 2015, and the winners were awarded round-trip tickets to the Ali Hang Zhou Computing Conference 2015 in Hangzhou, China. These engaging events and activities initiated by the Youth Club can nurture the interests, and widen the exposure of youngsters on information technology, which is an important goal of HKCS.

In the last year, our Innovation and Entrepreneurial Club (IE Club) has organised nearly a dozen events including training workshops for start-ups, inspiring seminars, roundtable discussions and distinguished speaker series to sharpen our members' innovative talents and entrepreneur spirits. With innovative technology solutions and entrepreneurship being important pillars to our economy's future, I am proud of our IE Club's efforts and contributions.

Last but not least is our distinguished CIO Board (CIOB), a by-invitation group which we hope to position as a high-level think tank providing strategic direction on how to best harness the value of ICT in the business sector. In the past twelve months, we have been expanding our membership in different industry sectors to increase the Board's scope and representation, and by now we now have over twenty core members. We look forward to more active participation of the CIOs in the time to come.

Reinforcing our core values

As a professional membership body with a key responsibility to our members, HKCS continues to advance our efforts and develop new initiatives around our five core values of professional development, career advancement, job assistance, industry collaboration and community engagement.

Our annual flagship event Hong Kong International Computer Conference (HKICC) 2015 in November 2015 was hailed a big success, providing a high-level knowledge and experience sharing platform to bring ICT practitioners, relevant professionals and organisations up to speed with the latest ICT trends and technologies. Working around the theme "#digital_economy - Powered by Innovation", HKCS invited 35 experts from around the world to share their insights on hot topics like Fintech, cyber security, big data, cloud and mobility at the 2-day event, inspiring industry practitioners and collaborators to explore new opportunities in the fast-moving realm of ICT.

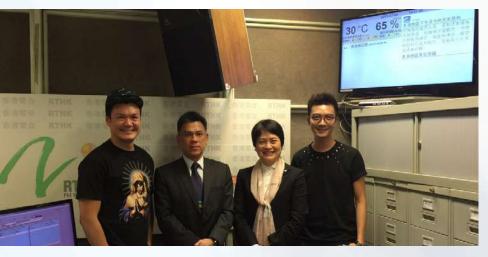

Technology is the most rapidly changing space in the world, so it's important to start grooming our younger generation at an early age. HKCS held a series of activities to spur the interest of secondary school and university students, like the Shanghai-Hong Kong-Taiwan Youth IT Summer Camp in July 2015, forging cross-border friendships with young people through interactive activities, and the Robocon 2015 Hong Kong Contest with Hong Kong Cyberport Management Company Limited (Cyberport) and the Hong Kong Institution of Engineers (HKIE) to plant the roots of creativity and entrepreneurship in our youngsters. We believe that these friendly but challenging competitions hold the key to building a strong succession line of ICT talents who can move in pace with the times and use technology to solve problems which can change the world.

Apart from these activities, we continued to provide rigorous, comprehensive training to advance our members' professional knowledge through our Continuing Professional Development (CPD) Programme. These are complemented by domain-specific forums, seminars and conferences organised by our SIGs, such as our Business Intelligence, Cloud Computing and Enterprise Architecture SIGs, to deepen our members' knowledge in different specialisations. Also, being a professional body with a substantial membership base, HKCS maintains an emphasis in upholding the standards of the profession under the Certified Professional of IT (CPIT) qualification, which encourages ICT practitioners to obtain certification for their skills and provides employers with a standardised system for assessing ICT talents.

To create more job opportunities, we organised the third and fourth HKCS IT Career Expoin September 2015 and April 2016, the largest ICT recruitment event in Hong Kong providing study and career opportunities for students, graduates and practitioners. The Expo aims to encourage more young people to make IT their chosen career by addressing their needs for career information and letting them meet face-to-face with employers. Thanks to the efforts of our organising team, we have lined up more than 40 multinational corporations, institutions and IT companies and attracted over a thousand participants to each event.

Building industry rapport with awards and study tours

Just as it is important to nurture local ICT talents and harness their contributions to society, we must also recognise outstanding achievers and bring them forth on the international stage to broaden Hong Kong's horizons and stature in the ICT industry. HKCS nominated 19 delegates for the Asia Pacific ICT Alliance (APICTA) Awards 2015 in Sri Lanka who scored phenomenal results with 10 prizes, placing Hong Kong in the top position for winning the most awards out of 16 Asia Pacific economies for the fifth consecutive year.

In Hong Kong, HKCS was once again the proud organiser of the Outstanding ICT Achiever Awards 2015, which has been expanded to include an 'Outstanding ICT Women Awards' as well. Standing beside the Hong Kong SAR Government's long-term Digital 21 Strategy for our city's ICT development, we partnered with GS1 in organising Hong Kong's Internet of Things Award 2015 and hosted the Hong Kong ICT Awards: Best Business Solution Awards in 2015 and 2016 to promote ICT usage in the community, by recognising brilliant technological products and solutions for large enterprises and SMEs alike.

HKCS continued to foster goodwill with relevant IT entities in China to create business and networking opportunities for our members. Our CIO visit to Chengdu in 2015 proved extremely popular with our members and achieved excellent results in terms of facilitating exchange and learning between the two cities. We also organised a 4-day trip to Shanghai in May 2016, where 26 members broadened their perspectives of Chinese culture and China's ICT development from the China Executive Leadership Academy in Pudong, and visited some major IT enterprises.

Breaking the watershed in community involvement

Community engagement has always been at the heart of our core values because community outreach can encourage our members to put their knowledge and skills to action and inspire them to use technology for the greater good for society. So this year again, HKCS co-organised the 23rd Green Power Hike 2016 – ICT Cup in January to help raise funds for the research and development of renewable energies to protect our environment.

Besides, I am excited to announce that the Society has laid that groundwork for our very own HKCS Foundation under Section 88 of the Inland Revenue Ordinance, thanks to the gracious patronage of The Honourable Dr. Leong Che-hung GBM, GBS, OBE, JP, former member of the Executive Council and Legislative Council of the Hong Kong SAR Government. This new charity entity, which we expect to be formalised by 2016, will mobilise HKCS members to volunteer their IT skills and knowledge to support underprivileged and less tech-savvy groups, such as new immigrants and the elderly, as well as provide technological resources and advice to non-profit organisations in need.

Capitalising on the present and planning for the future

With ICT being one of the fastest growing industries today and one that forms the backbone of our economy, HKCS must always try to be steps ahead of disruptive industry innovations, such as Fintech, big data and smart city technologies, to maintain our position as the leading professional body promoting the value and application of ICT in Hong Kong and abroad.

In the area of Fintech, for instance, we already have grand schemes in place to promote its growth and development in cooperation with other relevant IT organisations. HKCS is currently in discussions with the Hong Kong Applied Science and Technology Research Institute (ASTRI), Cyberport and HKIB to form a 'FinTech Consortium', which will chart the course of Fintech development in Hong Kong by grooming the next generation of Fintech talents and start-ups. Our FinTech SIG will also be working closely with HKIB to introduce a certificate training programme to develop professional standards and build recognition for Hong Kong's Fintech expertise. As for big data, HKCS is exploring ways to collaborate with organisations, like The Hong Kong Science and Technology Parks, to establish open data platforms to facilitate the design of smart city solutions for our communities.

While we are forging ahead and blazing new paths, it is just as important that we fortify our core foundation and strength, which lies in our growing membership base. HKCS' full membership number has reached a record high this year, which is a strong testimony to our value and impact on the ICT industry as a leading professional body. Looking to the future, we must continue to move our members up the ladder of professional development and strengthen their opportunities and engagement with different sectors of society because, ultimately, our members is our only asset. To this end, HKCS has developed a new mobile application to facilitate our communication and engagement with members, which will be launched very soon.

Finally, I am truly thankful for the strong dedication and uncompromising efforts of the leaders and staff of HKCS, who have made all of these remarkable progress and achievements possible. I would like to convey my heartfelt appreciation to our Advisors, Council, Committees, SIGs, Clubs and Secretariat for their invaluable ideas and relentless efforts over the past year, in driving our many initiatives and programmes, and for their infallible spirit in turning every challenge into an opportunity. With such a committed and professional team, I have no doubt that HKCS will continue to take its role as a leading IT professional body to new heights in the coming years and beyond.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT

TO THE MEMEBERS OF

HONG KONG COMPUTER SOCIETY (incorporated in Hong Kong with limited liability)

We have audited the consolidated financial statements of Hong Kong Computer Society ("the Company") and its subsidiaries (collectively referred to as the "Group") set out on pages 4 to 14, which comprise the consolidated statement of financial position as at 31 December 2015, and the consolidated statement of comprehensive income, the consolidated statement of changes in reserves and the consolidated statement of cash flows for the year then ended, and a summary of significant accounting policies and other explanatory information.

Council Members' Responsibility for the Consolidated Financial Statements

The Council Members of the Company are responsible for the preparation of consolidated financial statements that give a true and fair view in accordance with Hong Kong Financial Reporting Standards for Private Entities issued by the Hong Kong Institute of Certified Public Accountants and the Hong Kong Companies Ordinance, and for such internal control as the Council Members determine is necessary to enable the preparation of consolidated financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditor's Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these consolidated financial statements based on our audit and to report our opinion solely to you, as a body, in accordance with section 405 of the Hong Kong Companies Ordinance and for no other purpose. We do not assume responsibility towards or accept liability to any other person for the contents of this report.

We conducted our audit in accordance with Hong Kong Standards on Auditing issued by the Hong Kong Institute of Certified Public Accountants. Those standards require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the consolidated financial statements are free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the consolidated financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the consolidated financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the entity's preparation of consolidated financial statements that give a true and fair view in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates made by the Council Members, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the consolidated financial statements.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

d. Impairment of assets

An assessment is made at each date of consolidated statement of financial position to determine whether there is any indication of impairment or reversal of previous impairment, including items of property, plant and equipment, intangible assets and long-term investments. In the event that an asset's carrying amount exceeds its recoverable amount, the carrying amount is reduced to recoverable amount and an impairment loss is recognized in the consolidated statement of comprehensive income. The liability for current tax is calculated using the tax rates that have been enacted at the date of consolidated statement of financial position.

Deferred taxation is provided in full, using the liability method, on temporary differences arising between the tax bases of assets and liabilities and their carrying amounts in the consolidated financial statements. Operating lease rentals are taken up as an expense in the consolidated statement of comprehensive income over the term of the lease.

m. Provisions and contingent liabilities

Provisions are recognized for liabilities of uncertain timing or amount when the Group has a legal or constructive obligation arising as a result of a past event, it is probable that an outflow of economic benefits will be required to settle the obligation and a reliable estimate can be made. Where the time value of money is material, provisions are stated at the present value of the expenditure to settle the obligation.

Where it is not probable that an outflow of economic benefits will be required, or the amount cannot be estimated reliably, the obligation is disclosed as a contingent liability, unless the probable of outflow of economic benefits is remote. Possible obligations, whose existence will only be confirmed by the occurrence or non-occurrence of one or more future events are also disclosed as contingent liability unless the probability of outflow of economic benefits is remote.

4. CRITICAL ACCOUNTING ESTIMATES AND ASSUMPTIONS

Estimates and judgment are continually evaluated and are based on historical experience and other factors, including expectations of future events that are believed to be reasonable under the circumstances.

Estimate of fair value of current assets and liabilities

The fair value of the current assets and liabilities are assumed to approximate their carrying amounts because of the nature of their short-term maturity.

10. KEY SOURCES OF ESTIMATION UNCERTAINTY

a. Impairment of assets

Internal and external sources of information are reviewed by the Group at each date of consolidated statement of financial position to assess whether there is any indication that an asset may be impaired. If any such indication exists, the recoverable amount of the asset is estimated to determine impairment losses on the asset. Changes in facts and circumstances may result in revisions to the conclusions of whether an indication of impairment exists and revised estimates of recoverable amounts, which would affect profit or loss in future years.

b. Impairment of account and other receivables

In determining the amount of impairment of trade and other receivables, individual credit evaluations are performed on all customers requiring credit over a certain amount. These evaluations focus on the customers' past history of making payments when due and current ability to pay, and take into account information specific to the customer as well as pertaining to the economic environment in which the customer operates.

11. COMPARATIVE FIGURES

Certain comparative figures have been re-classified to conform with current year's presentation.

12. APPROVAL OF FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

The financial statements was approved and authorized to issue by the Council on 10 May 2016.
